Live Stream Zoom to YouTube Instructions

Section One: Enabling Sharing of Video Feed via Zoom

To begin live streaming in Zoom, YouTube requires users to enable a few specific settings in Zoom. Once enabled, additional options will appear only for the session host.

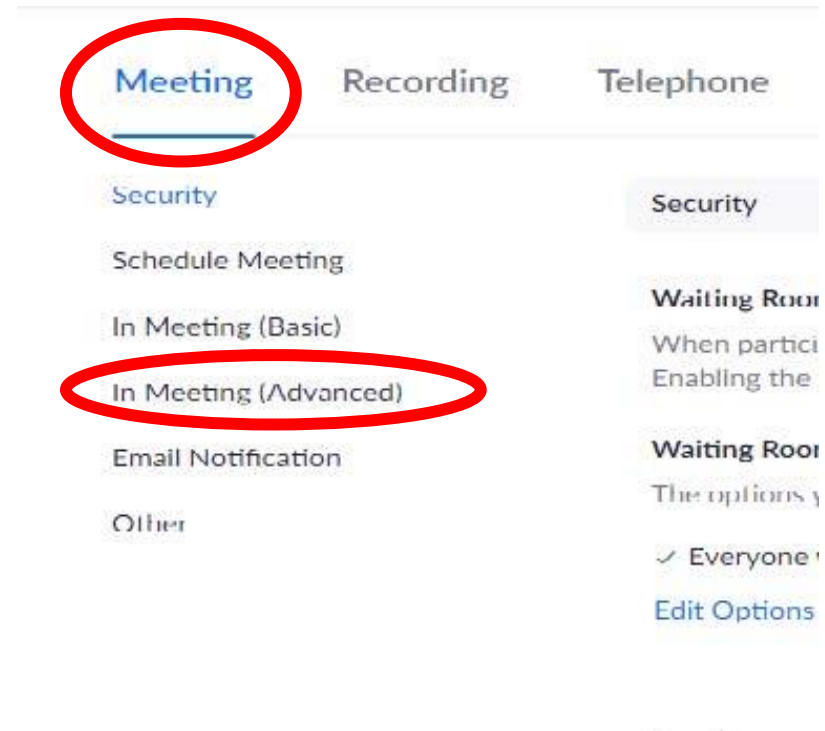

Step 1: Go to zoom.us and log into your account.

Step 2: Click on Settings

Section Two: Selecting Live Stream on a Zoom Session

Step 1: Schedule a zoom session while following organizational best practices. If you are planning to stream your Zoom meeting to YouTube, we recommend that you schedule the meeting to ensure that you are the meeting host.

Note: If you join a Zoom session and are made the alternate host to do a livestream, the original organizer and host of that session must have the options to allow stream settings on their account. If not, live streaming will not work.

Step 3: An additional menu will appear. Click Live on YouTube

Step 4: After selecting Live on YouTube, your default web browser will open, and you will be prompted to log into your google account associated with YouTube. Follow the given prompts.

Note: You will need to verify your channel and request streaming access with YouTube before live streaming. This can take up to 24 hours. Please see google support for additional guidance.

Step 5: After the loading/sync process between Zoom and YouTube, you will now be live streaming to your YouTube channel. Please note, the best video setting and streaming quality on YouTube depend on your internet connection and service provider data plans.

Step 6: When the Zoom session is complete, navigate back to the Zoom meeting window, click on the More button again, and select Stop Live Stream.
