The Office of Instructional Technology & Distance Learning (ITDL) at LBCC consists of The Instructional Technology Development Center (ITDC) & The Distance Learning Program (DLP) which are dedicated to supporting teaching & learning, as well as enhancing student engagement, achievement & academic success. We support faculty in all disciplines to integrate instructional technology into on-campus and online courses, through the design and facilitation of technology-mediated student-centered practices, and the provision of faculty professional development activities and college-wide training.

We can support you with:

Setting up Class Websites with LBCC’s Learning Management System

Instructional technology tools

Class Presentations

PeopleSoft features for faculty

Creating and formatting documents

Other ITDL resources for faculty:
