Definition of Acceptable Service

All volunteer service must be done for others at no charge and must be nonpartisan. In order to qualify, activities coordinated by a religious institution (church, synagogue, or mosque) must provide service to the general community. Responsibilities related to membership in a religious institution are not acceptable as service.

Examples of Acceptable Service: Assisting with food and clothing drives, working at soup kitchens, providing community-wide day care.

Examples of Unacceptable Service: Volunteer work at a private office (such as a law firm or doctor’s office), working for an elected official, working for a political campaign, singing in the church choir, participating in religious education, baby-sitting in the church nursery, teaching religious doctrine, are not acceptable Volunteer Activities.

Viking Volunteer Awards and Honors

The Viking Volunteer Resource Center at Long Beach City College offers students a variety of awards and honors for their hard work and service to the campus and community. Students must apply and record service hours with the Viking Volunteer Resource Center each semester, to be eligible for the following awards.

Permanent Record of Service: Volunteers who record 30 or more hours during a semester will have number of service hours reflected on their Academic Transcript. Students will also be provided with a Co-Curricular Transcript at the end of the semester. The Co-Curricular Transcript will highlight each student’s service to both the campus and community. Co-Curricular Transcripts will be issued upon request.
The President’s Volunteer Service Award:

The President’s Volunteer Service Award is issued by the President’s Council on Service and Civic Participation on behalf of the President of the United States to recognize volunteers across the nation.
