ARTICLE I. ELECTION PROCEDURES

SECTION 1.
Twelve senators are to be elected each year. Prior to the election, the assistant president shall determine the percentage of the electorate from each campus. The percentage from each campus shall then be used to calculate how many of the thirty-six members of the Senate shall be from each campus, based on Article III, Section 3 of the Constitution. The number of Senate members to be elected from each campus shall then be determined using this information combined with the number of senators from each campus whose terms are expiring.

SECTION 2.
Any member of the electorate may nominate any member of the electorate (self included) on the campus represented by the nominating member as a candidate for election to the Academic Senate. The electorate is defined in the Constitution of the Academic Senate Article II. Each nominee shall be given an opportunity to accept or decline the nomination before the election.

SECTION 3.
Separate ballots shall be prepared for the LAC and PCC campuses. The names of candidates shall be listed on the ballots by campus and in random order and their departments shall be shown after their names. Each member of the electorate may vote for as many candidates as there are Academic Senate vacancies to be filled from the voting member’s campus. Tie votes shall be resolved by random selection. Voting shall be by secret ballot. Absentee ballots shall be sent to all members of the electorate on leave and will be counted if returned before the conclusion of the voting period.

SECTION 4.
The candidates who have the highest number of votes shall be declared elected to the available positions. All remaining candidates shall become alternates for their respective campuses in order according to the vote totals tallied for each candidate. When a senator resigns or takes a leave of absence the remainder of that person’s term will be filled by the first alternate from the appropriate campus.

SECTION 5.
The electoral process shall begin early enough so that the winning candidates may be notified before the final Senate meeting of the spring semester.

SECTION 6.
The assistant president of the Academic Senate (1) conducts the elections for members of the Senate, department heads, Curriculum Committee representatives, and the voting on any matter referred to the electorate; and (2) appoints the Academic Senate representatives for tenure review committees in consultation with CCA and as the designee of the Academic Senate President.

SECTION 2.
Part-time faculty eligible to run for associate senator shall be employed as faculty at Long Beach City College during the semester of voting.
