Program Mission and Outcomes

The mission of this program is to present anthropology as the scientific global study of the biological and cultural aspects of humankind throughout time. This program will also prepare students to transfer successfully to a baccalaureate program at the university level. Upon completion of this program anthropology majors will be able to describe three of the four primary fields of research within the discipline of anthropology. Cultural anthropology focuses on in-depth, long-term, total immersion into another culture through the fieldwork methodology of participant observation. Archaeology studies humankind in the past and seeks to understand past cultures through the study of the material remains, or artifacts, those past societies left behind. Physical anthropology explores humankind from a biological perspective, including our origin as a species and our evolution as a species, within the broader framework of culture. The fourth field, linguistic anthropology, will also be explored, although not as a formal course. Students given the opportunity to apply theory and gain hands-on experience to explore the broad perspective of the diversity of interests that can be accommodated by pursuing a degree in anthropology. Training in anthropology will prepare students for any career that takes place in a multicultural setting.

Program Outcomes:

- Analyze and describe the major concepts, theoretical perspectives, and empirical evidence on the cultural and/or biological evolution of the human species.
- Utilize the scientific method to analyze the advantages and limitations of various anthropological research methodologies used to address our understanding of the cultural and/or biological evolution of the human species.
