Just about anything else life throws at you.

Mary's Story

When you need someone to hear you, one on one – that's what EAP's about. Take the case of "Mary," who called us during a difficult time:

"When Mary first reached out to EAP she was unsure of the kind of support she would receive. She was struggling with anxiety and was feeling overwhelmed with recent changes in her life. She connected with an EAP professional who listened to her concerns, provided her with online tools and gave her tips for managing her feelings in a healthy way. Mary's experience with EAP was "powerful and helpful" and allowed her "to feel stronger each day because of the resources provided."
