1	I wish the webinar had more practical applications and examples to enable me to implement it in my classes correctly.
1	I'm a new instructor and have already had my fair share of aggressive students. This definitely helped me put it into perspective. Learning how to handle students in a way that will not increase their frustration or potentially escalate the situation in any way.
1	This was an informative webinar. Provided me with a better understanding of some of the challenges that first generation students face in college.
1	I was not able to post anything into the chat rooms on #1 or #2. Maybe I am just supposed to listen. That is what I did.
1	Good information and helped me to know that I can add more techniques to things that already work in class.
1	This webinar was presented rather poorly. The speaker simply narrated the many stories she encountered while researching her work. Not a lot of advice.
1	The presentation validated the numerous "sermons" I continually give my students. It good to know I'm on the right track and it's backed-up by science!
1	I really enjoyed viewing a webinar for Flex Day. I feel I gained a lot of helpful information that was applicable to any classroom setting, and the learning environment helped me retain more information.
1	I plan to watch this at least one more time and take detailed notes. This time I only took screen shots as I was looking through course content as she threw out suggestions, I was considering modifications!
1	At times it seemed more like an indoctrination into post-modern thought. There was more theory and less practical guidance.
